Sustainable Environment

To get a healthy environment we should put more emphasis on easily available cheap degradable materials for our construction projects and regular use rather than non-degradable costly materials.