

Intraday and Swing Trade for NSE Stocks / Futures / Options / Commodity Trading / Forex

About the Course

If you are new to the day trading then you must be wondering which method I should follow, which software is best for day trading etc. In this process of gathering information and experiencing with new tools day traders used to lose maximum part of their money. In all my seminars and lectures I have taught proven wonderful day trading mathematical models. In this I am going to describe the simplest, no cost principle for the day traders. I will not recommend you to buy any software or tools to implement my principle. Only tool you need is a simple mathematical calculator. Most of the time day traders used to forget their finest experience in the stock market. I have pulled those finest experiences and prepared this course for you.
