ONE, FIRST, LITTLE, ALL, THAT

POSSESSIVE ADJECTIVE

An adjective that tells us about the ownership of the noun. This adjective is called a Possessive Adjective.

A possessive adjective shows ownership or possession. It tells us that something belongs to a person or thing.

Example: That is your cat. / This is my dog. /
Is that their house? / Those are our bicycles.

INTERROGATIVE ADJECTIVE

An adjective which poses questions in an 'interrogative' manner. It is called an Interrogative Adjective.

Like most adjectives, an interrogative adjective comes before a noun.

Example: Which school do you go to?
What colour is your new car?
Whose cap is this?

DEMONSTRATIVE ADJECTIVE

An adjective which specifies a noun is called a Demonstrative Adjective. It points out a fact about a person or thing.

Example: This puppy is mine.
That woman is my wife.
These spiders have long legs.
Those kids are beautiful.
