

IELTS TRAINING

Presently 6 students are appearing for IELTS and 2 students are appearing for TOEFL examination. I wish them all the best for their performance in the examination.

While practicing agree disagree type questions, drawing flowchart plays an important role .divide the page into different sections add words in each section according to plan of writing later fill in the spaces with high frequency words and compound complex sentences. moreover use of linkers is a must .for example firstly, secondly... Idiomatic expressions also enhances the scores or band. if the trainer is not qualified with masters degree in English it would be a mammoth task to train students .particularly, phonetics, structures of sentences etc...

With respect to speaking section candidates should practice alone or in a group. exchanging of ideas, brain storming and pooling of ideas may help students to build up confidence in answering any question.

Reading section sometimes is simple but most of the times students face a lot of difficulties in answering questions. The first line of a paragraph and the last line is very important similarly link between the lines should be carefully observed. meanings of words should be understood properly.
