English conversation can be mastered only by speaking, speaking and more speaking. I as a trainer take lots of efforts that the students do maximum speaking in the class.

My methodologies of teaching are few basic slides and only conversation that i correct over and over again till the time student has not mastered it. This is a very long process and both the trainer and students need to be patient to reap the results over a period of time during the course.I also do handholding after the course is over.If the student is facing any difficulty can always get their doubts clear.
